

PEELING THE PULSE OF TRADE

Bradstreet's and Dun Discuss the Business of the Week.

NO IMPROVEMENT OBSERVED

The Demand in All Lines Is as It Was Last Week.

FAILURES HAVE NOT PERCEPTIBLY DECREASED

Some Improvement Shown in a Few Western Cities—The Demand and Supplies.

New York, April 24.—Bradstreet's to-morrow will say: Feeling is more hopeful at many trade centers owing to continued improvement of demand in retail. The weather, favorable crop prospects and the activity which naturally follows seedling operations, distribution of implements and farm supplies, and the attendant activity.

More favorable reports from commercial travelers are from those representing Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha and Milwaukee houses.

Moderate improvement is shown at a few other west. centers, but at most of the large distributing points throughout the country the movement of merchandise on the whole shows no material change. While seedling is progressing rapidly in the north-west country, trade there is unfavorable. Lack of rain in Florida is the cause of the scarcity of early vegetables, and at almost all the cities mercantile collections continue slow.

In industrial lines the only marked change for the better is in the manufacture of shoes, orders for which have been placed in excess of preceding weeks. Transactions in wool have increased moderately, but supplies continue heavy and prices, while normally unchanged, are weak.

Prices for cotton goods are depressed by overproduction, not even the higher quotations for raw material having an influence under these circumstances. The demand for iron and steel, of stable varieties, remains almost at a standstill, consumers having stocked up prior to the recent advance. Railroad and structural material and heavy plate are in relatively best request, most other lines remaining flat.

Cuts in quotations for leather pig and steel billets are the result of transactions by middle men.

At the south a number of furnaces have contracted their output several months ahead and fractionally advanced the price of certain grades of pig. The tendency of prices is the reverse of that for several preceding weeks with a large number of decreases in addition to those mentioned, wheat, flour, wheat, Indian corn, sugar, leather, petroleum and coal are lower. While wool, lumber, coal, pork and print cloths remain nominally unchanged, cotton and tin plates have advanced, the latter due to a combination of makers.

There were 230 business failures reported throughout the United States this week, compared with 244 last week and 223 in the corresponding week one year ago.

Just About the Same.

R. G. Dun & Co. will say tomorrow, in their weekly review of trade: Failures for the week have been 230 in the United States, against 230 last year and 44 in Canada, against 37 last year.

Business has been favored by seasonable weather and the distribution of products has made fair progress, not yet reducing retail or wholesale stocks far enough, however, to improve the position of industries. Money markets have grown more favorable, as well as the state of foreign commerce and under the apparently groundless revival of discussion about the Venezuelan difficulty, there were brighter prospects of European investments here. The belief that that action for cheap money will be permanently laid at rest this year is gaining ground and in financial quarters causes more confidence for the future. Prices of commodities are, on the whole, lower than before, having declined 2 per cent since April 1st, and 17 per cent since July, 1895. The fall in manufactured products is a little less than it was April 1st, but in farm products greater. Cotton goods were bought less freely than last week, but in other lines have taken scarcely any cotton this month. The feeling is more hopeful because retail trade is better. The situation in woolen goods does not improve. The large orders taken for boots and shoes, when prices were reduced to last year's lowest, more than a month ago, resulted in shipments nearly equal to last year's. New orders are not now coming freely except for immediate delivery to fill out broken stocks.

Leather is weaker with heavy sales, averaging about 3 per cent lower for the week, though hides at Chicago are a shade stronger.

Neither pig iron nor manufactured products have improved in demand as yet, though further combinations have raised the prices of rods and of bar iron 125, while steel bars sell at 115 and nails 50 higher after May 1st. Brokers at Pittsburgh are still selling steel billets at below the pool price. Structural angles are a shade lower, though some good contracts are expected.

GRAIN AND TRADE CONGRESS.

Charleston Has Arranged for It on the 29th.

Charleston, S. C., April 24.—All arrangements for the south and west grain and trade congress, to be held here on the 29th instant, have been about completed.

The local committee has mapped out a line of entertainment for the delegates that will contribute greatly to their pleasure.

Delegates will be present from all the more important ports, Savannah, Mobile, Pensacola, Tampa, New Orleans and Galveston will be represented.

Among the more important interior points that will send delegations are Kansas City, Mo.; Chicago and Cairo, Ill.; Memphis, Chattanooga, Knoxville, Nashville and Jackson, Tenn.; Louisville, Ky.; Evansville, Ind.; Sioux City, Ia.; Superior, Neb.; St. Louis, Mo.; Atlanta and Augusta, Ga., and Minneapolis, Minn.

Prominent traffic men and executive officers of many of the roads in the south-east and the roads between Chicago and the Ohio will attend the meeting.

Rates of one fare for the round trip have been authorized by the Southern States Passenger Association and by the central passenger committee, and all of its subsidiary rates of one fare for the round trip.

The growth of the road and the congress will do much to educate the south and west to the fact that the natural and proper path for the movement of export and import commerce, now moving almost entirely through north Atlantic ports, is through the southern and gulf gateways.

BETTER SCHEDULES

The Seaboard Air-Line Is Planning a Change for an Early Day.

ATHENIANS WILL BE PLEASED

Purchasers of the M. and N. G. Are Expected to Raise $100,000 by the Appointed Day.

It was reported yesterday in railroad circles that the Seaboard Air-Line schedules would soon be changed in a way that would be of great benefit to Atlanta and adjacent towns along the line.

There has been a great deal of complaint from Atlanta, Elberton, Abbeville and the many smaller towns along the line of the Seaboard on account of the unreasonable hour the trains arrive and leave.

The morning train of the Seaboard Air-Line reaches here about 5 o'clock, several hours before any business begins in the city.

At least a score of Athenians visited Atlanta daily before the present schedule was put on, and they have been making loud complaints ever since they have been compelled to leave Athens at 2:30 o'clock in the morning when they wish to do any business in the day time in this city.

One very serious cause of complaint among the people who live in the towns along the Seaboard Air-Line is the fact that the first train that leaves Atlanta going northward does not begin its journey before noon, at that time the train, which was formerly delivered everywhere along the line in Georgia before 11 o'clock, is now delayed until 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

The Seaboard officials have been obliged to keep this objectionable schedule in operation for some time, in order to make quick connection with New Orleans and the southwest, but it is known that plans are on foot to change the schedule so that the New Orleans connection will be maintained all right and at the same time the convenience of the patrons of the road between Elberton and Atlanta satisfied.

Until very recently the Seaboard left Athens about 7 o'clock in the morning and arrived here shortly after 9 o'clock. A train also left Atlanta for Athens, Elberton and Abbeville about 7 o'clock a. m., and the Constitution was delivered all along the line soon after the residents of the towns had finished their breakfast.

There was also a train which left Atlanta in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, enabling all visitors to the city to return to their homes in time for supper. It is believed that the changed schedule which is being prepared by the Seaboard officials will be as convenient as the former one was to the city.

Why the Respite Was Granted.

There has been a great deal of speculation concerning the latest respite Judge Newman granted to the purchasers of the Atlanta and Northern Georgia railroad, who failed on April 15th to make the second payment of $100,000 which was due on that date.

It is said that the purchasers, the Atlanta, Knoxville and Northern Georgia Company, communicated with the "old lender" in New York, and that the deal whereby the parties holding contracts, bonds, etc., agreed to go into a reorganization scheme, the plan being for these parties to take two-thirds of the claims in cash and one-third in first mortgage bonds of the new company to be formed by the reorganization.

It is reported that this plan met with favor by the parties interested in Knoxville, and that Knoxville lawyers sent word that the proposition had been accepted by the Knoxville people and would probably be accepted by those interested living outside of Knoxville. This, it is said, induced Judge Newman to allow the extra ten days' time.

It is expected that this plan will be a success, and that the money can be raised by the time the ten days' respite granted by Judge Newman expires.

TO SAVE MEN FROM DRINK.

Mrs. Helen M. Barker Explains the Work of the W. C. T. U.

Mrs. Helen M. Barker, the treasurer of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, spoke yesterday afternoon at the Moody tabernacle. On account of the fact that the time for the talk had been changed, not quite so large a crowd was present as was expected. Nevertheless those who were present formed an interested audience and greatly appreciated the work that was made. Mrs. Barker spoke on the work that has been accomplished by the union and cited instances where they had saved innumerable souls from utter ruin.

She said that the fact that the union had not succeeded in having the bar closed was no sign that they had not done good. The churches, she said, had for eighteen hundred years tried to close them and had not succeeded. They were still persevering. When it is impossible for the churches to accomplish their work, they turn to the woman's work.

Mrs. Barker will lecture at the Moody tabernacle again tomorrow night.

THE ATLANTAS WON

The Montgomery's String of Victories
Broken Yesterday.

QUITE A CROWD SAW THE GAME

Knowles' Men Punished Two of Gorman's Pitchers Badly—The Game Today.

Birmingham.	10	3	7	.300

GAME WILL BE CALLED AT 3.30.

The Atlanta broke Montgomery's string of victories yesterday and at the same time broke the heart of many Montgomery fans. Montgomery's seven straight victories had induced the belief by many Montgomery people that the team was invincible, and when Knowles and his men walked over them with ease and rapidly yesterday there were many Montgomery people who could not believe the statement, true and many more who did not want to believe it. Disappointed and thoroughly disgruntled the crowd of fans who had gathered in Montgomery to see the game, and the story of the game as it progressed went away when the last inning had been finished. Confident of another victory they gathered in Montgomery to see the game as it could be pictured at the conclusion of each half inning. There are no wises in the grounds and for that reason the details could not be sent, else the Montgomery fans would have known every play as it was made. Through the telephone in the arena's box, however, the result of every half inning was sent to the city and then over the wire to Montgomery.

By the time the fourth inning had been finished the Montgomery fans had lost some of their confidence, and when the fifth was over many of them were skeptical as to the result and somewhat weakened in their faith in the team's great strength and allied invincibility.

The game was a good one from start to finish and convinced many that Atlanta has a strong team, composed of young, healthy, energetic players. It satisfied many, too, that it is made up of players, though young and not long on the diamond, who do not run easily. Every one kept his head right over his shoulders and never went wild, while more than once the Montgomery players, even those who have been through many campaigns, rattled easily, some of them going right up into the air.

Knowles appeared to have his men well in hand, and as they were directed to work they worked. Every one showed good, quick moving, and nearly all had an eye right on the ball with a good strong arm to drive it out. Gorman tried two pitchers, and both fared badly. Drinkwater was knocked out in the fourth inning, and then Bailey was batted out in the fifth for singles, doubles, triples and home runs. It was the same Bailey who made his first show in the south at night here in Atlanta, when Macon took him out of the game in Cincinnati, and put him in the box at Birmingham.

That day he won the game, and that day he was christened King Bailey. The crowd at the park enjoyed the game and showed their appreciation of the work the men did. Quite a number of those out, possibly a majority, expected to see Montgomery win and to some the result was unpleasant because of a few dollars lost. But like Atlanta's fans, they were disappointed when they realized that Atlanta had won their dollar and joined in the yell for the home team.

The Montgomerys did not play a good game by any means. Up to yesterday they have been playing a close-in game, a game in which team work showed its worth. As one man they worked together and did not break. But when, early in the game, it became apparent that they stood a chance to lose, the team went all to pieces. Instead of working as one team, as they have been doing in the past, the team presented nine men and nine different ways of playing ball. The players simply got into a bad air, and it took a hyperemic injection of drinkwater to get them back on the earth again. Drinkwater essayed to put the ball over the plate and did the work to the entire satisfaction of the Atlanta fans. He was taken out and Bailey was substituted in the fourth inning. In the fourth inning Drinkwater pitched he gave up four singles and two doubles, made a wild pitch and struck out two men.

When Bailey went in the box he was given an ovation by his old Atlanta friends. He was expected to be a great pitcher, a great work, but he got thumped right along from the start. Walker did the box work for Atlanta, and though he had no perfect control of the ball manifested an ability to pitch. The Atlanta's batted the ball hard and timely. With three men on the bases Norton put the ball over for which he got a hit. Then Wagner and Knowles were given a base and a large crowd were full when Norton came up.

The first ball Bailey put in suited Norton, and he drove it over the fence. The crowd went wild and Norton was the hero. Meers and Pabst both put the ball over the fence. Following is the score:

GAME WILL BE CALLED AT 3.30.

The Atlanta broke Montgomery's string of victories yesterday and at the same time broke the heart of many Montgomery fans. Montgomery's seven straight victories had induced the belief by many Montgomery people that the team was invincible, and when Knowles and his men walked over them with ease and rapidly yesterday there were many Montgomery people who could not believe the statement, true and many more who did not want to believe it. Disappointed and thoroughly disgruntled the crowd of fans who had gathered in Montgomery to see the game, and the story of the game as it progressed went away when the last inning had been finished. Confident of another victory they gathered in Montgomery to see the game as it could be pictured at the conclusion of each half inning. There are no wises in the grounds and for that reason the details could not be sent, else the Montgomery fans would have known every play as it was made. Through the telephone in the arena's box, however, the result of every half inning was sent to the city and then over the wire to Montgomery.

By the time the fourth inning had been finished the Montgomery fans had lost some of their confidence, and when the fifth was over many of them were skeptical as to the result and somewhat weakened in their faith in the team's great strength and allied invincibility.

The game was a good one from start to finish and convinced many that Atlanta has a strong team, composed of young, healthy, energetic players. It satisfied many, too, that it is made up of players, though young and not long on the diamond, who do not run easily. Every one kept his head right over his shoulders and never went wild, while more than once the Montgomery players, even those who have been through many campaigns, rattled easily, some of them going right up into the air.

Knowles appeared to have his men well in hand, and as they were directed to work they worked. Every one showed good, quick moving, and nearly all had an eye right on the ball with a good strong arm to drive it out. Gorman tried two pitchers, and both fared badly. Drinkwater was knocked out in the fourth inning, and then Bailey was batted out in the fifth for singles, doubles, triples and home runs. It was the same Bailey who made his first show in the south at night here in Atlanta, when Macon took him out of the game in Cincinnati, and put him in the box at Birmingham.

That day he won the game, and that day he was christened King Bailey. The crowd at the park enjoyed the game and showed their appreciation of the work the men did. Quite a number of those out, possibly a majority, expected to see Montgomery win and to some the result was unpleasant because of a few dollars lost. But like Atlanta's fans, they were disappointed when they realized that Atlanta had won their dollar and joined in the yell for the home team.

The Montgomerys did not play a good game by any means. Up to yesterday they have been playing a close-in game, a game in which team work showed its worth. As one man they worked together and did not break. But when, early in the game, it became apparent that they stood a chance to lose, the team went all to pieces. Instead of working as one team, as they have been doing in the past, the team presented nine men and nine different ways of playing ball. The players simply got into a bad air, and it took a hyperemic injection of drinkwater to get them back on the earth again. Drinkwater essayed to put the ball over the plate and did the work to the entire satisfaction of the Atlanta fans. He was taken out and Bailey was substituted in the fourth inning. In the fourth inning Drinkwater pitched he gave up four singles and two doubles, made a wild pitch and struck out two men.

When Bailey went in the box he was given an ovation by his old Atlanta friends. He was expected to be a great pitcher, a great work, but he got thumped right along from the start. Walker did the box work for Atlanta, and though he had no perfect control of the ball manifested an ability to pitch. The Atlanta's batted the ball hard and timely. With three men on the bases Norton put the ball over for which he got a hit. Then Wagner and Knowles were given a base and a large crowd were full when Norton came up.

The first ball Bailey put in suited Norton, and he drove it over the fence. The crowd went wild and Norton was the hero. Meers and Pabst both put the ball over the fence. Following is the score:

PLANS WANTED FOR THE NEW JAIL

The County Commissioners Invite All Architects To Compete.

REQUIREMENTS ARE SPECIFIED

And the Plans Must Be Submitted by May 10th.

THE JAIL WILL SURELY GO UP THIS SUMMER

Every Preliminary Step Possible Has Been Taken—Text of the Letter to Architects.

All the world has been invited to offer plans for the new jail, which Fulton county is at last going to build, after talking about it for a great many years. The jail will be built on the lot which has been purchased on Butler street, between East Hunter street and the Georgia railroad. The site is in the shadow of the state capitol. The first payment on the jail has been made, and the plans will be made today, and the trade for the lot settled for all time to come.

In the meantime the architects of the world have been invited to send in jail plans for the great competition which Fulton county proposes to institute. The plans and estimates of cost for the new jail will be made in this city. It is to be understood that designs advanced for a model jail, complete in all its appointments, must be submitted by May 10th, and by that date Mr. Forrest Adair and Mr. Grant Wilkins expect to have a huge roll of splendid plans.

Following is the invitation complete, which has been sent broadcast over the country:

"The commissioners of roads and revenues for Fulton county invite from architects and engineers plans and specifications and estimates of cost for the new jail to be built in this city. It is to be understood that designs advanced for a model jail, complete in all its appointments, must be submitted by May 10th, and by that date Mr. Forrest Adair and Mr. Grant Wilkins expect to have a huge roll of splendid plans.

"The competition will close at 12 o'clock on Saturday, the 16th day of May, 1898, at which hour all plans must be delivered to the clerk for consideration of the commissioners.

"For further information apply to Forrest Adair, chairman department public buildings, or to Grant Wilkins, superintendent of construction. The lot has a frontage of 165 feet 6 inches on Butler street and extends back 20 feet. The front line is at an angle with the side line of 107 degrees 15 minutes, opposite lines being parallel.

"The necessities to be provided for are enumerated under the heads of executive department, jailer's home, prison and general requirements.

"Executive Department—Vestibules and halls, jailer's reception room, jailer's private office, officers' room, officers' sitting room, bookkeeper, record room and vault, toilet bath, etc., armory, deputy jailer's office, guards' sleeping room, receiving room for prisoners, prisoner's examination room, storeroom for prisoners' effects, jailer's private entrance from office to home, officers' dining room, servery and pantry, steam heat, water, light, etc.

"Jailer's Home—Reception hall, sitting room, parlors, dining room, closets, etc., three bedrooms, closets, etc., kitchen, butler's pantry, storeroom, trunkroom, toilet bath, etc., vestibules and hallways, steam heat, water, light, etc.

"Prison—Three hundred and eighty single metal cells, 4 feet 8 inches by 8 feet, three single metal cells, 4 feet 8 inches by 8 feet for condemned prisoners, one single cell and sound-proof cell 4 feet 8 inches by 8 feet for solitary confinement, prisoners' corridors, jailer's corridors, consultation rooms, vestibule and halls between executive department and prison department, executive room, kitchen, etc.

"Seventy-five per cent of prisoners are negroes. The cell rooms and hospital department of the prison must be arranged for white males, white females, negro males, negro females, juveniles, must be made for both artificial light and air, so in each cell there must be either or both can be used; also, heat, water and all other necessary requirements.

"The right is reserved by the commissioners to accept, modify or reject any or all plans submitted by the architects, and the clerk on or before 12 o'clock Saturday, the 16th day of May, 1898.

SIGNALS FROM THE EQUITABLE.

Army Orders Flashed Miles Through Space.

Yesterday the heliograph, which was described in Thursday's Constitution, was again experimented with in flashing signals between Atlanta and a point beyond Fort McPherson.

The first experiments were tried on the dome of the capitol and they proved a great success. Yesterday the work was repeated on the dome of the capitol and about twenty messages were sent to and from the capitol.

Lieutenant Carnahan, Corporal Linville, Operator Davis and several privates connected with the heliograph were on duty on the first day. The signaling will be given all the men belonging to the signal corps.

To Go to Columbus.

Governor Atkinson and his staff will go to Columbus Sunday afternoon to take part in the memorial day exercises at that place Monday. The governor and party will leave Atlanta early Monday morning.

An informal reception will be given to the party on their arrival at Columbus, at the Rankin house, from 10 to 12 o'clock. The governor and staff will return to Atlanta that night.

Sam Wins a Victory at Law.

Sam Sling, a very popular celebrant of this city, was fined yesterday for disturbing the peace. He was charged with the charge of having been in the wrong laundry. The case was dismissed by Judge Bloodworth.

Does Swift Work.

Since the opening of the spring term Judge Candler has been very busy. During that time ninety-five cases have been tried and disposed of. Of this number eighty-eight are jail cases and nine are other cases. There are only three prisoners remaining in jail awaiting trial in this court. Charles Young is one of these. He will be tried this morning on the murder of John Edwards. The case of J. J. Rowe has been set for Wednesday. This will bring forth something sensational, as it recounts a local daylight over the case of Will Myers.

The case of Carl Howlsworth, the negro who killed Court Johnson last year, was also called Wednesday. He was sentenced by Judge Clark, but on account of the discovery of new evidence he was granted a new trial before Judge Candler.

All bond cases will be called Thursday morning in the event of all the jail cases being disposed of.

First Bicycle Run.

A motion was presented by Judge Candler yesterday for the new trial of Arthur H. Hays, sentenced to be hanged on May 8th. The case is based upon technical grounds. The argument for the new trial will be heard next Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. De Pasquali Will Give Several Musical Recitals, Beginning Wednesday Evening.

The cycle club of the Young Men's Christian Association will make the first run of the season tomorrow afternoon. The start will be made from the association building at 4:30 o'clock p. m. Two trips will be made to Brookwood, after which another direction may be taken. All wheelmen of the city are invited to participate.

The men's rally in the Young Men's Christian Association hall on Sunday afternoon will be a novel and interesting service. It will be conducted by the St. Andrews Brotherhood of St. Luke's Protestant Episcopal church. Rev. J. N. McCormick, the popular pastor of St. Luke's, will speak, and there will be other interesting features. Rev. Mr. McCormick is a speaker of unusual power.

The entertainment committee of the Young Men's Christian Association has been fortunate enough to arrange with Mr. and Mrs. De Pasquali for a series of four recitals to be given in the Young Men's Christian Association auditorium, commencing next Wednesday evening. The programme will consist of selections from "Faust" on Wednesday evening, "Cavalleria Rusticana" on Thursday evening, "The Marriage of Figaro" on Friday evening and "The Trovatore" on Saturday evening. This will be one of the finest series ever given under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association state course.

Mr. and Mrs. De Pasquali are artists of rare ability, and rank with the great singers of the world.

Mr. C. P. Younts, of Macon, has been installed as assistant secretary. He succeeds Mr. Alonzo Hollingsworth.

Revival Meetings Closed.

Cuthbert, Ga., April 24.—(Special).—The series of meetings which has been in progress at the Methodist church, this city, has closed.

CRAVEN IS AT LARGE AGAIN

The Young Man Is Still a Fugitive from Justice.

HE FORFEITS HIS BOND

A Bench Warrant Issued and He Will Be Arrested.

A PRETTY WOMAN APPEARS IN COURT

The Case of Mrs. Owens Was Postponed—Other News of the Courts.

A. I. Craven, the young man charged with forgery and captured in Savannah several weeks ago, after a flight from the Atlanta officers, is still a fugitive from justice. It was expected that his case would be tried yesterday in the criminal superior court and all arrangements had been made to that end.

But it is supposed that Craven has skipped again. His bond was forfeited, as he did not put in his appearance. It was immediately after the postponement of the case of Mrs. Owens that the case of the young man was called. The deputy was charged to cry his name three times. This he did in a loud voice, but there was no response. Craven failed to show up. Solicitor Hill called off the dog by saying his bond had been forfeited, and the action was so declared by the judge.

Judge Candler immediately issued a bench warrant, and if the young man is in Atlanta he will be again caught. The amount of the bond is $500. It was Craven who forged the name of L. H. Hill, in whose employment he was, for $100. The check was cashed at the Lowry bank. He was arrested, but escaped, and made his way to Savannah, where he was detected just as he was about to depart upon a steamer.

A Pretty Prisoner.

It was expected that the case of Mrs. Owens would be tried yesterday morning. There was a large crowd in the courtroom expecting a series of sensational developments. Mrs. Owens was there, too. She presented a remarkably handsome appearance, clad in a blue dress with a neat collar and cuffs. The number of children and in her arms was an infant only seven weeks old. A goodly crop of neighbors was also along.

The case was called by Counsel Hulsey, for the defendant, and for several other reasons presented by the state, the case was carried over. A disappointed crowd left the room, where in the meantime Mrs. Owens was the object of much admiration.

He Took Church Funds.

George Madio is a character name, so the members of Mt. Zion church declare, and indicates the disposition of the man who bears it. He was brought up yesterday morning before Judge Candler and given one year at hard labor for stealing church funds. He was the trusted treasurer of the church and had been collecting the money subscribed every Sunday. It suddenly developed that he had appropriated about $300 of the funds and for this he was arrested and yesterday convicted.

Stole from a Bank.

Bob Olive, a young negro of thirteen, was arrested yesterday for stealing from a serious crime. He was a member of a gang of small negroes whose occupation was to steal all that came within their reach. He was charged with stealing from a bank one afternoon with a wire which he pushed under the counter and grabbed out a package containing $100. He was caught by Officer McAdams and yesterday received a full sentence.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

UNUSUAL APRIL HEAT AND DROUGHT CONTINUE.

Cotton and Corn Are Being Delayed and Early Vegetables Parched by the Sun.

The weather yesterday was a few degrees cooler than the day before, but still oppressive and uncomfortable.

There was some thunder and lightning and several threats of a heavy summer shower, which did not materialize.

The low area of barometric pressure mentioned yesterday morning as being central over the Missouri valley has moved slowly northeastward to the northern end of the Michigan peninsula. It is followed by a slight fall of temperature over the northern portion of the trans-Mississippi region, while at every station south and east of the Missouri river the heat has continued stationary or increased from 2 to 16 degrees.

There has practically been no rain in the cotton region of this or other states since last reports and there is none in sight.

PARDON OF CONVICTS

Governor Atkinson Sets a Precedent by Pardoning Charles Evans.

ALL PUT UNDER ONE LAW

Heretofore There Have Been Two Laws in Regard to the Production of Time for Good Behavior.

Governor Atkinson, on yesterday morning, signed a warrant pardoning Charles Evans, who was in the penitentiary for twenty years, having been sent up from Putnam county in 1881 for assault with intent to rape.

And thereby hangs a story which will be of interest to some other unfortunate who have fallen under the strong arm of the law.

In the Georgia penitentiary, as in all other similar institutions, a certain amount of time is taken off the sentence of the convict for good behavior. In 1887, the Georgia legislature passed a law, making the allowance greater in case of long terms, and shortening the allowance in short terms.

The convict, Charles Evans, who was pardoned by the governor yesterday, was sent up under the old law, and it has been the rule heretofore to deduct the time allowed for good behavior according to the law in force at the time of the sentence. Governor Atkinson, when the matter was called to his attention, decided that it would be just to place all convicts under the new law, made in 1887, and Evans is the first convict to get the benefit of his decision.

Evans was convicted and sentenced at the September term of the Putnam court of 1881, and has therefore been in the penitentiary nearly fifteen years. According to the penitentiary regulations in force at the time of his conviction, he would still have some time to serve, but under the law in force at present, the time allowed him for good behavior would bring his term of sentence to an end. By the decision of the governor he is now a free man, and the papers to that effect were signed yesterday morning.

Will Apply to Other Convicts.
"It is my intention," said the governor yesterday, "to apply this rule to all convicts now in the penitentiary sentenced prior to the passage of the law of 1887, and I have instructed the principal keeper of the penitentiary to notify me whenever the case of a convict sentenced under the old law would be out, according to the provisions of the present law. When notified of such cases, I shall pardon them, thus making one law applicable to all. The convict pardoned today had an excellent record for good behavior, and I have set a precedent in his case which I will follow in other cases of a similar character."

The governor is receiving a great many letters from ministers in reference to the pardon of Harry Hill. Yesterday he got one from a minister in Tennessee, asking that Hill be pardoned. So far he has not acted on the suggestion.

Is Receiving Valuable Aid.
Commissioner Nesbitt, of the agricultural department, is receiving a good many contributions to the fund for the distribution of literature bearing on the proposed Georgia exhibit at the Southern States exposition to be held in Chicago in the fall.

Attorney General Terrell, who has recently returned from Washington, where he went on business connected with the Nobles case, will prepare a brief on the case to be sent to the governor before the case comes up, which will be some time early in May.

BUCK O'SHIELDS CAUGHT.
HE IS A PRISONER IN A TEXAS JAIL, SO THE SHERIFF TELLS.

Will Be Brought Back to Atlanta
When His Term Expires in the Lone Star State.

Buck O'Shields has been captured. The news came to the office of Sheriff Barnes yesterday morning. It was received with much favor, for his present condition assures no escape, and the hobo of hobo will remain secure until the Atlanta officials want him.

Buck is now in the Texas penitentiary, where he was located by a fellow prisoner, and where he is serving a sentence for the same offense committed here. His term will expire in July, and he will be brought immediately to Atlanta, where he will be held to serve out the sentence imposed years ago.

Buck O'Shields was one of the most desperate characters that ever came to the hands of the Atlanta officials. He was the head and front of many organizations in this city whose depredations are matters of criminal record. He was sentenced in the penitentiary, but his mysterious escape ended his career here.

The letter to the sheriff states that he was found in Fulton county, where he was recognized by Poole South, also from Atlanta, who was doing a short sentence there.

HURLED TO THE GROUND.

CONTRACTOR BURNEY FELL FROM A SECOND STORY.

Badly Shaken Up and a Terrible Gash
Cut in His Neck—Was Resting
Well Last Night.

Mr. John Burney, the well known young contractor, fell from a building yesterday morning and was severely injured. He had contracted for building a dwelling house on South Pryor street and was on the building when the accident happened. He was on the second floor looking over the work that had been done. In walking about he stepped on the end of a loose plank. It gave way beneath the weight of his body and he was hurled to the ground, twelve or fifteen feet below.

The plank on which he stepped had been broken off and the end of it had a sharp point on it.

When Mr. Burney fell the plank followed him and he had hardly hit the floor when the sharp end of the plank struck him in the neck inflicting a very painful cut.

For a few minutes Mr. Burney lay unconscious, with a stream of blood pouring from his throat. A number of persons ran to his assistance and the flow of blood was stopped until a physician arrived. After the wound had been dressed as well as was possible under the circumstances, and Burney had regained consciousness he was carried to a hospital from there to a doctor's office.

He is resting well last night and there is no immediate danger. It is likely that he will be out among his friends in a few days.

To the Public.
When I accepted a place on the ticket for a receiver which was offered by Mr. H. L. Harrison, I was not aware that the duties of the office would require so much of my time and attention. I am sorry to find that I have been unable to do the duties of my office as well as I should have done.

In doing so I desire to return to the many friends who have given me cordial assurances of their support at the primary my sincere thanks for this evidence of their confidence and regard.

In withdrawing from this race I urge my friends to give their cordial support to the ticket with which I was connected.

R. A. HARRIS.
